The invocation was offered by Don Ray Duncan, pastor, Tree of Life Church, New Braunfels, as follows:

Dear Heavenly Father, I come to you today to lift up in prayer these men and these women who serve in the Texas House of Representatives. It is important to begin this new day by looking to you for your plans and your purposes to be revealed in and through all those who have been given the authority and the responsibility to lead this great State of Texas.

Today is a new day full of new hope, new excitement, and new expectations. And even though we live in a world that is constantly changing from one day to the next and changing faster than ever before, we can come to you in absolute confidence with our prayers and our requests because we know that you are the God that changes not. You are the same yesterday, today, and forever. And that is why we look to you and to your word for the things that are needed today to lead and direct this great state in the way it should go.

Your word says that, ". . .you show man what is good and what is required. And that is to do justly, love mercy, and to walk humbly with our God". In doing these things we are assured that your goodness is released into our lives and in the things that we do. In doing this we are also to find the fulfillment, satisfaction, accomplishment, and success that is extended to all who do what you require.

I pray that you help each one to do justly. And that is to give you their all, to give you their best in everything they do. I pray that you help each one to love mercy, to be kind and benevolent. May their influence be positive, inspirational, and filled with love and respect. And I pray that the most important thing is that they walk humbly with you. May they acknowledge you in every area of their lives. May they be obedient to your leading and guiding and stay focused and submitted to your plans and purposes for their lives and for this great State of Texas.

Father God, thank you for their time. Thank you for their commitment. And thank you for their sacrifices. Bless them abundantly and bless their families in ways they have yet to experience. Show them favor and meet their needs as only you can. And love them unconditionally as you have always done. And may we all remember your words in the Book of Jeremiah that say, "I know the thoughts and plans that I think towards you says the Lord, thoughts of peace and not evil, to give you a future and a hope." In Jesus' name I pray. Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Macias who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.
