The invocation was offered by Dr. Robert Simmons, Dallas First Church of Nazarene, DeSoto, as follows:

Heavenly Father, we humbly bow before you this Thursday morning at the start of another session. We all acknowledge the awesome privilege of being here in this historic chamber representing Texans of every color, every socio-economic level, and every faith tradition.

During this Lenten season may we be mindful of the great sacrifice you have made in our behalf, and may we show our gratitude by finding ways to serve others in your name.

We confess that we are not always eager to do your will, as often we would much rather do our own will. Please be with us on this Lenten journey and help us remember that your own spirit can guide us in the right direction. Give us courage to make changes. Help us to show mercy for others and love generously. Transform our hearts so that we may know the joy of being your servants.

Father, often we chase after success single-mindedly, and end up with lonely, empty victories. Forgive us for our selfishness and our lust for power over others. Give these representatives courage to serve others, rather than to exploit them. Keep them from abusing the trust which has been placed in them by the people of the State of Texas. Rescue them from conceit and pride and partisanship, which cloud their vision and scramble their common sense. Keep them from despairing as they see the growing mountain of bills yet to be considered, and help them to focus on the issues before them, without thought of themselves. Grant that these elected to serve and represent others may do so as if they represent you.

Bless all of these who have chosen the path of service, and grant for them, as with St. Francis, that they will not so much seek to be understood, as to understand; and to be loved, as to love. For it is in giving that we receive; it is in pardoning, that we are pardoned; it is in dying, that we are born. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

The speaker recognized Representative Giddings who led the house in the pledges of allegiance to the United States and Texas flags.

CAPITOL PHYSICIAN

The speaker recognized Representative Jones who presented Dr. Hugh Wilson of Lubbock as the "Doctor for the Day."

The house welcomed Dr. Wilson and thanked him for his participation in the Physician of the Day Program sponsored by the Texas Academy of Family Physicians.
