DIGEST

Currently, primary elections are held in March in Texas. There are concerns that March primaries do not allow voters enough time to focus on state races. This bill would amend the election cycle by changing the primary election to the second Saturday in May for both gubernatorial and presidential election years. This bill also substitutes the fourth Saturday in March as a general or special election date instead of the first Saturday in May.

PURPOSE

As proposed, H.B. 32 amends certain dates for primary election and other related dates, deadlines, and procedures.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.

SECTION BY SECTION ANALYSIS

SECTION 1. Amends Section 41.001(a), Election Code, to require each general or special election in this state to be held on the fourth Saturday in March, rather than the first Saturday in May, among other dates.

SECTION 2. Amends Section 41.0052(a), Election Code, to authorize a county, not later than December 31, 1997, rather than 1993, to change the date on which it holds its general election for officers to another authorized uniform election date.
