DIGEST AND PURPOSE

According to the American Diabetes Association, 15.7 million Americans, or 5.9 percent of the country's population, have diabetes. The Texas Department of Health estimates that, in 1998, 1.6 million Texans or 12 percent of the state's population had diabetes. Based on Texas death certificate data, diabetes contributed to 12,299 deaths in 1996 and was the sixth leading cause of death listed on Texas death certificates. Many people first become aware of the devastating effects of diabetes when they develop such complications as blindness, kidney disease, nerve damage, heart disease, and stroke. Many of the components associated with the disease are unknown and need further research. H.B. 2510 requires the board of regents of the Texas Tech University System to establish the Texas Tech Diabetes Research Center for the purposes of researching diabetes and other related factors associated with the disease.
