DIGEST AND PURPOSE

The Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation has collected more than $160,000 in fines and penalties from auctioneers for failing to adhere to auction law. H.B. 135 establishes new eligibility requirements for an auctioneer's license, including increasing the employment and participation requirements; requiring a high school diploma, or its equivalent; requiring a certain amount of continuing education; and requiring a lack of felony convictions in the five years prior to application. H.B. 135 also provides that a license is not necessary for an employee not acting as a bid caller.
