Committee Report (Substituted)

DIGEST AND PURPOSE

According to the Texas Classroom Teachers Association, teachers have been sued for special education techniques, student injuries in the classroom and on the playground, and for other reasons. The United States Department of Education states that fear of litigation is one of the top three concerns among teachers. C.S.S.B. 930 maintains the current broad immunities that Texas law provides for teachers; incorporates the No Child Left Behind Coverdell Provision; adds specific protections from disciplinary proceedings for school professionals who use reasonable force to maintain order and discipline; caps the liability of a school professional at $100,000 for acts within the scope of duty; requires the exhaustion of district level remedies before suit and 90 day notice of suit; allows courts to refer cases to alternative dispute resolution; and provides recovery of attorney's fees if the professional employee substantially prevails.
