AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Under current law, only municipalities with a population of at least 850,000 are able to access funds from the Other Events Trust Fund (fund). The fund was created to provide cities and counties with money to help them attract special events, such as the Super Bowl, the Pan American Games, the Olympics, All-Star Games, the Final Four Tournament, and others. The new stadium for the Dallas Cowboys is currently being constructed in the City of Arlington and will be completed by 2009. This region is in the process of submitting a bid to host the 2011 Super Bowl. In order for every entity in this region to have the ability to access money from the fund, the current population requirement for accessing the fund needs to be removed.

As proposed, S.B. 1424 strikes the requirement for a municipality to have a population of at least 850,000 to be considered an endorsing municipality in order to receive funds from the Other Events Trust Fund.
