AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The Rio Grande Regional Water Authority (authority) sets the current market value of the water it sells to purchasers in the authority's certificate of convenience and necessity (CCN) every year. The authority calculates current market value for acre-foot of municipal use water after conversion from irrigation use water by using the average of the last three purchases involving: a municipal water supplier, a party other than a municipal water supplier, and at least 100 acre-feet of municipal use water, with the municipal priority of allocation.

A complication in the current formula arises when purchasers from outside the authority's CCN want to purchase water from a supplier subject to purchasers subject to the CCN. These discounts skew the current market value formula when a purchaser not subject to the CCN wants to purchase water from the authority.

As proposed, S.B. 1292 requires the Rio Grande Regional Water Authority to exclude sales between municipal water suppliers and purchasers from the current market value formula provided for in Section 49.509 (Duty of Rio Grande Regional Water Authority to Calculate Current Market Value), Water Code.
