AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

While a court-appointed volunteer advocate, sometimes known as a court-appointed special advocate (CASA) volunteer, has access to certain information regarding the child for whom the advocate is providing services, interested parties note that a volunteer advocate is required to stay inside the child protective services office and look through information until finding the needed information. H.B. 1227 seeks to allow a volunteer advocate to quickly and securely access information in a child's case file through an automated case tracking and information management system.

H.B. 1227 amends current law relating to the use of an Internet application to allow access by court-appointed volunteer advocates to child protective services case information.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

Rulemaking authority is expressly granted to the executive commissioner of the Health and Human Services Commission in SECTION 1 (Section 264.614, Family Code) and SECTION 2 of this bill.

(b) Requires the court-appointed volunteer advocate to maintain the confidentiality required by this chapter and DFPS rule for the information accessed by the advocate through the system described by Subsection (a).

(c) Prohibits DFPS from using money other than money received as a gift, grant, or donation to pay for the costs of developing and maintaining the Internet application required by Subsection (a). Authorizes DFPS to solicit and accept gifts, grants, and donations of any kind and from any source for purposes of this section.

(d) Requires the executive commissioner of the Health and Human Services Commission (executive commissioner) to adopt rules necessary to implement this section.
